

ORACLE

VISIONS

THE EDITOR'S OVERVIEW

As we leave our home of the past five years, each of us has different visions of what the future holds. We have gotten out of this school what we put into it, which is highly commendable. We each have different goals, and each of us will find our own ways to achieve them.

In this yearbook is the past. The 1996 Oracle will serve to remind us of what we had at Randolph High. Good times and bad times alike, our high school experiences have made us grow. Somewhere in this yearbook is a glimpse of you. During our time in high school, we acquired the skills to get us through life. We learned a lot of things, but the most important thing we can take with us is confidence — confidence in who we are and what we do. We should have the confidence to stand up for ourselves and for our principles; the confidence to use our skills in order to continue growing and learning throughout our lives.

The future awaits us, and we are now prepared to meet it. We, the Class of 1996, were a vision, a class which was not afraid to fight for what it believed in. We made this school better for those who will follow us, and we made sure people knew how effective a class can be. We should all be so proud of our achievements. We envisioned graduation, and now it is a reality. While it is frightening to venture into the unknown arena of total independence, as long as we each know who we are and the kind of person we want to be, we will always be able to look back with pride at Randolph Jr./Sr. High School where we spent so much time. We should look at this place, and be glad to move on, but not forget where we learned to succeed.

Each of us looks in the mirror and can be proud of the vision staring back. We should have confidence to take on the world. We should never give up on ourselves. We should envision ourselves succeeding, and we will.

FACULTY and STAFF

Mr. James E. Watson
Headmaster

To the Class of 1996 :

Congratulations! I hope that Randolph Junior/Senior High School has made your lives better and that you have benefited from the many programs and activities offered in our school. We have tried to equip you with the best.

Keep in mind that success will not be instantaneous. You must apply yourself diligently to the work or the study which you choose. Do not become discouraged. Have pride in yourself, your work and your accomplishment.

On behalf of all of the administrators, faculty and staff, I congratulate you. I wish you success in your chosen field and much personal happiness.

Sincerely,

James E. Watson

To The Class of 1996 :

Congratulations to you and your families on passing a major milestone in your lives as graduates from Randolph Junior/Senior High School.

For the past six years, I have had the honor and pleasure of working with you as you have become young men and women. The shared experiences of joy, success and even occasional sadness have been very special.

On behalf of the Randolph Junior/Senior High School administration, faculty and staff, I would like to thank you for all of your contributions to our school. We wish you success in your careers and happiness in your personal lives.

Sincerely,

Our Senior Year

Senior year was filled with activities which started in August 1995. More students participated in the many extra-curricular offerings of Randolph Junior/Senior High School than ever before since the user fees were eliminated.

As seniors we experienced special privileges, including breakfasts at Bagel Land, coffee at Friendly's, and stuffed crust at Pizza Hut. For many of us, early morning sprints to homeroom were forever ended, while the underclassmen were engrossed in Channel One. It was about this time when the Senioritis epidemic began to spread.

Proms, yearbooks, and caps and gowns dominated the conversations and added to the excitement of this final year of high school. College essays, applications, financial aid forms and waiting for college acceptances added to the frenzy, but made 1996 so special forever to the Class of 1996.

The pages of the 1996 Oracles chronicle much of the activity of our class. Memories fill in the rest.

We celebrate our accomplishments as a class and look forward to the future.

An Editorial Note

Every attempt was made to represent all members of the Class of '96, the faculty, staff, and administration. We regret any discrepancies which might be noted. We believe that the 96 Oracle is as accurate as possible within the timeframes of our deadlines.

Poetic Views

A Poem

A cold, clear night ; conducive to sight
I awoke from my sleep with a start drawn to the window by Diane's soft light.
I witnessed a vision that set still my heart-

Luna on high illuminating the sky
Shone on row after row of suburban dreams each white picket fence no coincidence shown uniform by the moonbeams.

Each soul was trapped, attention held rapt by the promise of peace, every one with briefcase and shackles in hand they march to the tune of one band, shades on to ignore the light the sun.

They troop off to work, to duty, to death with every last living obedient breath singing and praising their iron - clad lives kissing goodbye two - dimensional wives!

In that pocket of peace between cradle and grave

A perpetual purgatory of souls in a cell
I'll never stop looking for some sort of key for those manicured manacles between heaven and hell.

— — Christopher Bronski

Roads

The road never traveled
The words never said
The games never played
The prayers before bed
The “what if” about life that keeps us hanging on
The “so what ifs” about people we don’t realize until they’re gone

The “if dids” wish we could get back
The things I would change that I know everyone lacks

The road never paved
The words in your head
The games never won
The nightmares in bed
When your thoughts die out
And your feelings killed
When your love is murdered
And your soul filled

The road never traveled
The words never said
The games never played
The prayers before bed

Dedication

It is with great pride that the 1996 Oracle dedicates this issue of the yearbook to Mr. Arthur A. Melia, Superintendent of Schools. Mr. Melia has devoted his life to the Town of Randolph, first as an active member of the Class of 1963, and later as a teacher, administrator, and assistant superintendent. Recently the press has been filled with articles depicting Mr. Melia as a hero, not only on the battlefield, but in his daily life. We know that we are fortunate in the selection of Mr. Melia to lead our school system into the twenty-first century.

There are so many people to consider when dedicating a yearbook. Teachers and advisors weave their influences through our memories, sometimes leaving more impressions than ever imagined. We, too, remember them as part of the kaleidoscope of our experiences.

Some members of the faculty are leaving Randolph Junior/Senior High School as we part. Retiring this year are Mrs. Carol Roht and Mr. Joseph Costa, teachers of reading, Mrs. Ellie Olsen, Guidance Counselor, Mr. Ronald Lovett, Director of Culture and Society, and Dr. Lyn A. Huttunen, Superintendent of Schools.

The Joseph W. Daly Chapter of the National Honor Society has been holding firm to the standards of scholarship, character, leadership and service. As a group of 40 members, they will, by the end of the year have completed many projects including the Entertainment Book fundraiser and a can drive. The Honor Society hopes to see their recycling and elderly service projects continued by future classes. Thanks to Cynthia Welch, Corinna Russell, Chad O'Connor, Cynthia Yang and Darshana Patel for their continued service this year.

Harvard Model Congress

Randolph sent sixteen delegates to Harvard Model Congress. They were lead by Head Delegates Matthew Ostiguy and Deborah Stein. These future politicians played roles such as Representatives, Senators, and Constitutional Conventioners. They drafted legislation, amended the Constitution, and rejected bills, while trying to override the President's veto power and passing bills to outlaw Marinara Sauce. Jon Abbett and Cindy Welch took home Honorable Mention Awards for their contributions to their respective committees, and Head Delegates Matt Ostiguy and Debbie Stein each received Outstanding Achievement Awards for their work.

School Store

The School Store provides students with an environment for taking on responsibilities and learning teamwork. Store workers and the club advisor, Mr. Christopher, work in the store both during and after school. Profits are used towards scholarships for graduating seniors.

Student Council

Through their leadership and enthusiasm, the R.H.S. Student Council had an extremely successful year. Whether waking up at the crack of dawn or working late into the night, they worked diligently to bring spirit and leadership to R.H.S. From cleaning bathrooms to running rallies, from organizing blood drives to clothing drives, they never gave up on their goals of improving the school.

The Student Council members truly are the leaders of the schools, but they owe a lot of their success to our advisor, Mr. Powell. He always guided them in the right direction and always had wise words. All of the members should be proud of what they achieved this year, and should never forget the fun they had.

Amnesty

Amnesty International is a world-wide human rights movement which works to prevent some of the gravest violations of human rights by governments. Amnesty is independent of any government, political grouping, ideology, economic interest or religious creed. Students work for human rights through action letter writing, campaigning on various issues and/or countries, highlighting various issues in educational forums, protests, and fund raisers. As an organized body, students form a very powerful and effective force for change.

Environmental Club

The Environmental Club pursues an understanding of the environment and the need to protect it. Under the direction of Ms. Ellis, the members of this group are active in Randolph Jr./ Sr. High seeking solutions for the pollution of the air, land, and water.

The Blue and White Banner is the official school newspaper. Its goal is to make the public aware of what is happening in our school. All the articles are written by students and the paper's staff is also entirely made up of students. The Blue and White Banner was periodically published as a supplementary section of the Randolph Mariner and served as good publicity for our school.

Peer Leaders

The R.H.S. Peer Leadership is a group of students who help the 7th and 8th graders with the challenges of today's society such as the issues of drug/alcohol addiction, pregnancy and decision making. The peer leaders also present a play on date rape to the 11th and 12th grades to increase awareness. These 26 students are extremely dedicated to both the students of RJ/SHS and the town of Randolph.

Back Row (L to R): J. Warren, N. Lever, B. Daily. Second Row: A. Robson, R. Cohen, P. Fruzetti, C. Fields. Third Row: K. Sullivan, B. Dziergowski, T. Trull, K. Wortzman, M. Dasse, M. Menovich. Fourth Row: K. Perfetuo, K. Capasso, D. Prag, C. Yang, D. Levy. Bottom Row: L. Packard, K. O'Donnell, M. Doniger, T. Pham.

Randolph Asian Culture Club

The Randolph Asian Culture Club was founded to promote the Asian culture and its diverse traditions. R.A.C.C. arranges activities for students to increase their cultural awareness and have fun. Among the interesting events during the winter is the Asian New Year celebration. Music, Art, martial arts, lion dance, and wonderful food mark this annual festive occasion which involves students, faculty, and members of the community.

Math Team

The Randolph Math Team, advised by Mr. Turner and Ms. DiMascio, continues in its winning ways. They capped off a successful 1995-96 season by finishing FIRST in the League. The team qualified for the state meet last year, and are triumphant in the Southeastern Massachusetts Math League. This marks a fifth consecutive year as qualifiers for the state competition.

Back Row: (L to R) C. Luke, J. Chen, D. Maulik, J. Lin, E. Christian, N. Agarwalla, G. Maple, A. Poon, P. Chin, R. Lin. Front Row: H. Tong, C. Yang, C. Hui, M. Wong, C. Lee.

The heart of RJSHS is the educational experience of each student. Peer tutors volunteer their time during the day and after school to help others reach higher goals and enjoy academic success in all academic areas. As students improve, tutors deepen their own understanding of the learning process and know the joy teachers feel when their students succeed!

As members of Randolph's Students Against Driving Drunk organization, students pursue one major goal: to spread throughout the community an awareness of the dangers of drunk driving. Regular SADD programs include Substance Abuse Awareness Day and Operation Prom Night. The philosophy of SADD is that if one person gets the message, if only one person stops someone from driving drunk, then it is worth all of the work. Students are empowered by this message, and know that it is worth the effort to save a life.

The African-American Club at RJSHS is a group of young students sharing one common motive: to make RJSHS aware of diversity. This year in the club, members made steps in trying to accomplish their objective of exemplifying the black community and culture. Randolph JSHS is proud to have such conscientious young adults.

Publicity Club

The Publicity Club is a new feature of Randolph Jr./Sr. High School. Under the leadership of Mrs. Jennifer Tantillo, the club endeavors to spread the GOOD NEWS of the RJSHS community.

The Aesthetic Restoration Team (A.R.T.) is made up of a group of talented students working to improve the appearance of our school. The students give up much of their time and vacations to create decorative improvements to the halls and walls. Their hard work shows every day as we enjoy the bright and interesting corridors.

Students' Alliance Against Racism

SAAR is about mediating and trying to better our school community by giving our all. Composed of a group of students who would like to mediate the violence and racism that occurs in our community and among the students, the members are trying to prevent problems that teens face in the community.

Jazz Band

Having traveled amongst the cool cats of Berklee, Toronto, and Virginia Beach, the Jazz Band is extraordinary. Saganic led the saxophones to improvisational bliss, as they claimed two consecutive Best Saxophone Section awards and a second place finish at the North American Music Festivals in '93 and '95. From the core of the Jazz Band sprang forth new groups, and seniors H. Rubin, E Saganic, J. Cole, J. Brenner, and A. Greenstein still await the resurrection of Charlie Parker.

The Oracle staff was commanded by Deborah Stein. Despite tyranny and long hours chained in Mrs. Chui's room, the staff persevered. Alex Poon, Assistant Editor, managed to derive some results from their new Macintosh. Jodi Cole led the business staff in taking care of fiscal problems for this year. Among many other duties, Gary Maple photographed numerous sporting events. Taryn Hamlin developed cropping skills with her co-sports editor. Production Editor Erik Saganic, philosopher, checked the specs. Multimedia Specialist Ostiguy argued with the Mac, but the Mac won. Last, but not least, Chad O'Connor, Literary Editor, endeavored to ensure that our verbiage is lucid.

A Brief Thank You from the Editor-in-Chief

To Alex: Thank-you for your invaluable computer skills and your reminders for everyone to "Calm down, I can fix it," while giving up so much school time to make the Oracle perfect.

To Gary: Thank-you for waiting for the perfect caption and for your dedication to making the sports better than ever.

To Taryn: Thank-you for your commitment to all sports, not just the ones you participate in. Thank-you also for your friendship and support.

To Chad: Thank-you for putting up with my "Deadline Moods," walking me to my car to protect me from "The Stalker," and of course contributing your literary ingenuity.

To Jodi: Thank-you for never giving up on those few last ads. Thank-you also for showing me that old friends can still become new friends.

To Matt: All I can say is thank-you. Thanks for understanding when I confiscated your poetic license, and when I took things out on you. Thanks for sticking around and always needing a ride home . . . I enjoy the trips.

To Mrs. Chui: This school does not know how lucky they are to have you for an advisor. Your quest for perfection and for making each page special will be obvious every time the Class of '96 looks at the Oracle.

To Club Presidents: Thank-you for cooperating with our rigid deadlines.

To Advisors: Thank-you for your patience in dealing with our new student-run photography.

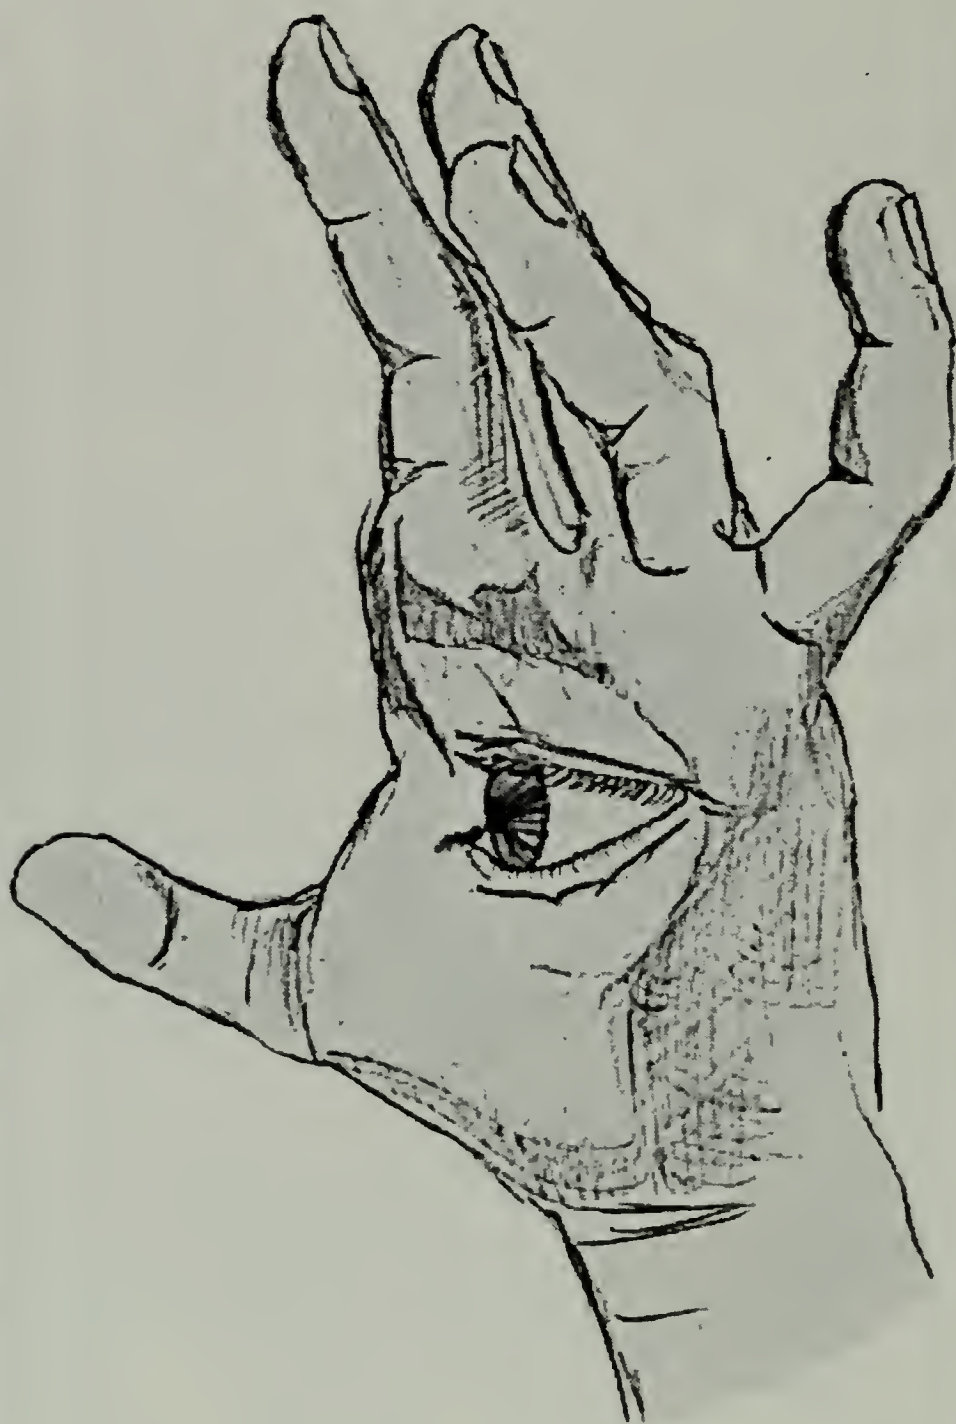

To The Business Staffers: Your hard work helped make this all possible.

From Taryn and Gary

To the Coaches and Captains: Thank you for your time, write-ups, identifications and patience.

To all of our Senior Athletes: Congratulations on great years.

A VISION OF TEAMWORK

FOOTBALL

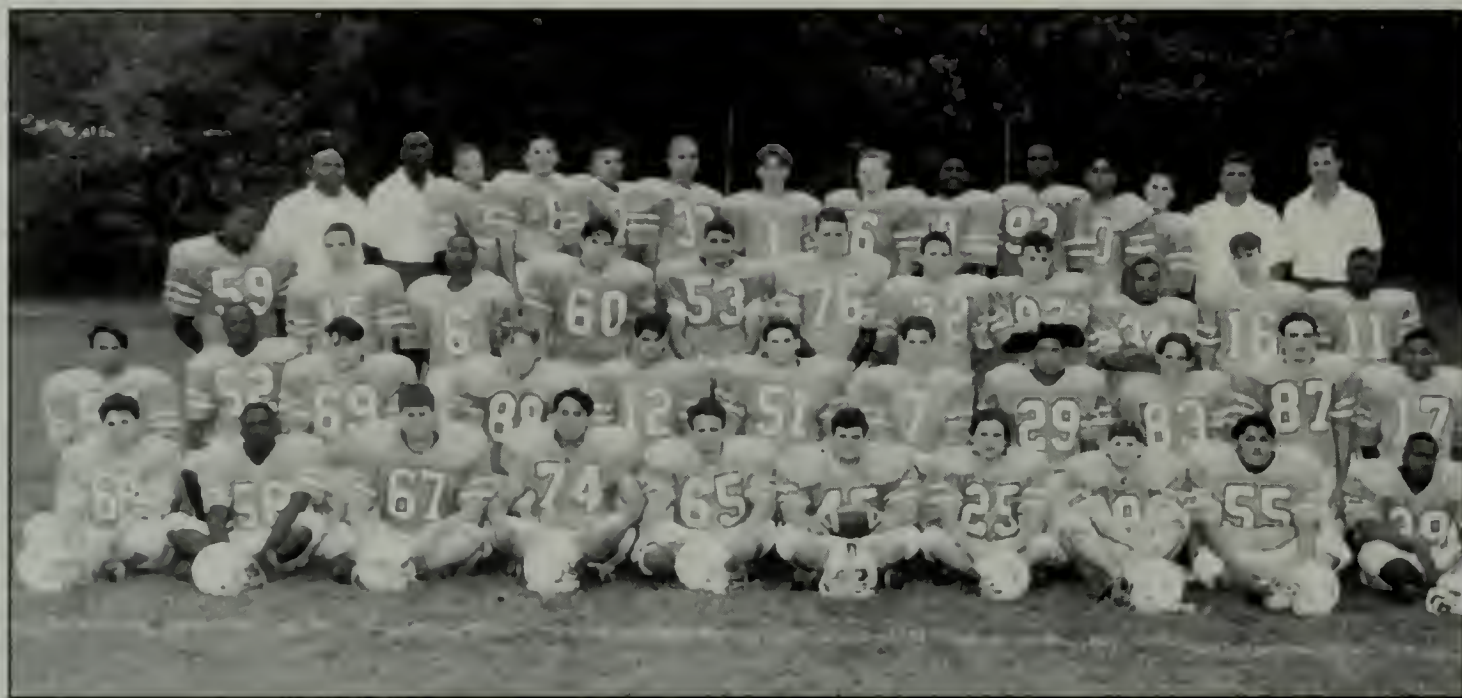

The Blue Devils Varsity Football team of Randolph High School, finished the 1995-96 season with a rather dismal 4-6-0 record. However, they competed in some tough games against some tough teams.

They lost three games by a total of three points. Joe Monteforte and Chris daCamara, the co-captains, led the Blue Devils football team through a season in which they played three superbowl quality teams; Marshfield, Acton-Boxborough, and East Bridgewater. Despite the fact that they lost to all three, they defeated the Rockland Bulldogs on Turkey Day to capture the Devil-Dog trophy until next year when it is on the line again.

In conclusion, the wins and losses are not what are most important to the team. What are important are the good times, the friendships, the experience, and the lessons learned. The Seniors wish next year's team, led by captains Joe Quinerly, Jeff Warren, and Mike Kutchamanic, the best of luck.

Captains: daCamara and Monteforte

Captains O'Donnell and Packard

The R.H.S. Varsity Cheerleaders had an incredible year together with lots of memories. While continuously supporting the athletes, they also participated in two competitions. Captains Kristen O'Donnell and Lori Packard led the team to a second place victory in one competition. Some of their favorite memories throughout the year included cheerleading camp, Mike Talbot, toilet papering, rallies, Homecoming, pasta dinners, candy corns, the Hustle, and of course always breaking on mayonnaise. They will always remember the great times and all of the work they put into supporting the Blue Devils. The graduating cheerleaders would like to wish good luck to the team next year.

BOYS' SOCCER

As expected, the Boys' Soccer team had an undefeated record during the regular season. The 18-0 record gave them a ranking of #1 in the State Tournament. As defending State Champions, they faced Needham in the final game, but were defeated 2-0 . . . Yeah Right! Even though their games had an average student attendance of .42, anyone that started to believe this article does not deserve to graduate. The truth is that they did not win a game the whole season. The team was led by senior Co-Captains Paul MacGregor and Matt Weinberg. Other seniors included Ricky Ng, Doug Prag, Brian Karoul, and Ed Christian. They had a new coach and many young players on the team this year, and they blame their complete and total failure on them.

Senior highlights were as follows: Paul MacGregor's leg totally failing and causing him to collapse at the Dennis-Yarmouth game; Rick Ng's ability not to get injured everyday; Doug Prag's being the oldest and shortest kid on the team; Brian Karoul's five illegal throw-ins in one game; Ed Christian's bloody nose, broken wrist, goofy goggles, and desire to wave at girls; the Coach's wife getting tossed from the field; and Matt Ostiguy supporting them at the rally.

Kerri: You're supposed to trip the other team.

Captains Lindsey and Allison

In spite of their record (0-16-2), the Girls' Varsity soccer team kept the score close in most of their games. Coaches of other teams commented on their improvement during the season. Although they were a young team, they were competitive, and will continue to grow stronger. They are looking forward to bringing up talented players from the J.V. team, who pulled off a 1-0 win against Middleboro.

GIRLS'

Before each race, the starter would say "Will the top five runners please step up to the line?" During most of the races, the Randolph Girls' Cross Country team consisted of only five runners. Despite having only one win during the 1995 season, the Girls' team did very well competing against the larger teams of 15 to 20 girls in the A.C.L. Led by Laura Trull and Denise Gomes, Randolph always gave their competitors a run for their money. Senior Captain (and rookie) Taryn Hamlin ran behind the front-runners while sophomores Julia Hunter, Linda Gorman, and seventh grader Natalie Lindsey-Leroux ran closely behind. Although pack running was never an option, Laura almost always grabbed the first place spot for Randolph.

The Randolph Boys' Cross Country team made the seniors' final year very special. Making this year special, first, was their 6-3 record in a very tough league. What really made the season worthwhile was Randolph's first victory ever over Dennis-Yarmouth, by a score of 25-31, which capped off a very special and exciting season.

Captains Beth and Carolyn

Although their pool was conquered by chlorine and they were forced to practice at Blue Hills at the crack of dawn, The Girls Varsity Swim Team still managed to finish third in the Pilgrim Conference. Many swimmers went to the Sectional meet. Danielle Gately and senior Shauna Callahan went to States. Beth Dziergowski and Danielle Gately were named to the All-Star team, and Debbie Stein received the League Sportsmanship Award. The swim team would like to thank their coaches, Val and Denise, for all of their dedicated work. They would also like to wish Val a "Happy Retirement." SAVE THE POOL.

POWDER PUFF

No sporting event will leave such an indelible mark on history as did this year's Powder Puff game. In the annals of written record, no team has received such an abject humiliation as did the senior girls. By being shut out at half-time, and ultimately losing, our gals rounded out the top three with the Hindenberg and Dukakis presidential campaign of all-time American disasters. The senior girls were befuddled by the juniors' complex offensive plan consisting solely of passing the ball to Kate Sullivan, or handing the ball off to Kate Sullivan. However, the seniors occasionally managed to whip the crowd into a frenzy by getting more than one first down in a half! Even more startling was their ability to occasionally gain yardage! The senior girls had a chance to make the score somewhat respectable — as respectable as losing to the junior girls could be.)

Captain Weinberg

The Randolph High School Boys' Basketball Team had a very successful 1995-1996 season. Although the team was young and faced much adversity, they came together and won. This "quaint little band of 10" players worked hard and had their effort pay off as they advanced to the state tournament. The team was led by captain Matt Weinberg, seniors Paul MacGregor and Carlo Maignon. Spiritual leadership and stats were provided by senior manager Gary Maple and his crew. Sophomore Jared Fortes was the Blue Devils' all-star representative.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

For many years, the scoreboard at Varsity girls' basketball games would show Randolph losing by 30, 40, sometimes even 50 points. However, the 1995-1996 season was extremely different. With six seniors on the team, the Blue Devils won two consecutive games for the first time in many years and kept most others within reach. League all-star Indya Mitchell contributed greatly to the team's success. The team would like to thank coaches Bill Santos and Norm Tardiff for the constant reminder that if one plays with heart, one will win. Season highlights included Taryn's ingenious recommendations, Wilkes before practice, a record setting number of injuries, Wilkes during practice, Carolyn and Indya throwing water on Coach Tardiff, talking about Wilkes at spaghetti dinners, bus rides with J. Stillwell, and most importantly, celebrating with Coach Wilkes. The players would like to dedicate the 1995-1996 season to the one and only Coach Wilkes!

Captains O'Leary, Berryman and Moore

This year's Blue Devils hockey team did much better than was expected of them at the beginning of the season. With no goalie and few returning players, things didn't look hopeful for the Devils. However, three goalies and many young players came out for the team. The team made a run at the state tournament for the first time in many years. With many young players on the team, the future looks bright. Senior leadership that will be missed was provided by Marcelino Andrade, Matt Berryman and Brian O'Leary.

GYMNASTICS

The 1990-1991 girls' gymnastics team had a successful season, winning their third straight league championship. They also went undefeated in the state tournament. Unfortunately, due to an injury, the team's work was not rewarded with a state championship. The undefeated team, coached by Coach Strazzulla, and their captain, J. Capasso, were defeated by league champion, the team coached by league champion, J. Capasso and his wife, Strazzulla. The girls will always be proud of their team.

The wrestling team once again did Randolph proud. The team's winning percentage was not great, but they won a majority of their matches. However, due to a lack of team members, they forfeited many matches in every meet. The Blue Devils had eight of their wrestlers advance into the South Sectionals, and all did well.

WINTER GIRLS'

With only one senior, the 1995-1996 Girls' Winter Track team worked hard and ended the season with one win and one tie. The team was led by senior captains Ester Philistin, junior Kate Sullivan and sophomore Laura Trull. The majority of the team was underclassmen, so the future looks promising.

For the first time in many years, the Boys' Winter Track Team went undefeated, clinching first place in the Atlantic Coast League. This would not have been possible without the great dedication of the athletes and the excellent facilitating of Coaches Powell, Sullivan, Walsh and Burke.

Qualifiers for state competition were Kate Sullivan, Laura Trull, Heidi-Lynn Morse, Tina Decanto, Tinese Burns, Matt Warren, Hatim Jean-Louis, Tim Trull, Dave Veira, Ricky Ng, Pat Fruzzetti, and Dan McGuire.

Another Vision

As we approach the end of our senior year, we are overcome by emotion. We look forward to the promising future that we wish to create for ourselves. We will find niches in society and work diligently. But with these thoughts dominating our lives, it is easy to overlook what is going on around us in the present.

While today may slip by us all too swiftly, recording the here and now is the main objective of our yearbook: to capture the untouched spirit that people often seem to lose as they try to deal with their activities, daily obligations, and careers. It will serve as a method of closing the gaps in our hazy memories. In the coming years, it will remind us of old friends who have dispersed in all the directions of the compass.

In the future, let us all cherish that to which we can not return. Let this yearbook be the key that unlocks fond memories. Moreover, let it call back to you as the embodiment of friendship and great expectations.

Best wishes for health and happiness,

Chad A. O'Connor
